

SWCC IS HIRING: Office and Systems Manager

ABOUT SWCC: we are a passionate, non-profit organization founded in 2004 by a diverse group of local yokels from the upper Skeena region of the Skeena River watershed in British Columbia, Canada. Our mission is "to cultivate a sustainable future from a sustainable environment rooted in our culture and a thriving wild salmon ecosystem in the Skeena watershed."

Through collaboration with Indigenous communities, local residents, and various stakeholders, SWCC strives to protect the Skeena Watershed's environmental, economic and cultural health for present and future generations.

SWCC has been recognized as one of the top ten innovative and effective leaders in Canada not once, but twice! We do this with environmental advocacy, community building events and projects that bring our watershed together and finally, we work on solutions to help maintain, restore or remediate cultural and ecosystem integrity. These solutions include community economic development projects, sustainable food systems and using nature-based solutions to deal with toxic legacies left behind by natural and manmade disasters/mismanagement.
